DAY 1 – PSYGALA (2nd April 2024)

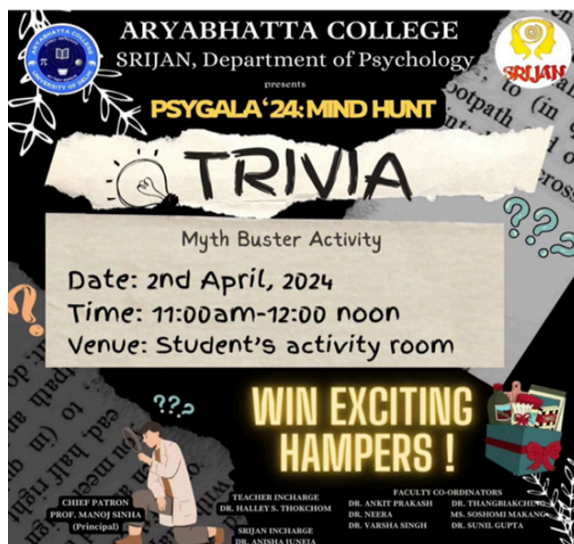

FLASHMOB

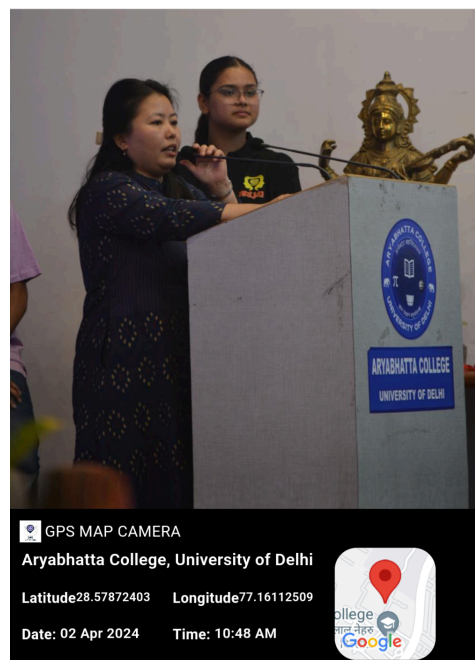

The fest, Psygala'24, commenced with a flashmob, drawing the attention of passersby and sparking interest among college students. The students performed vibrant and unified choreography, highlighting the theme of Forensic Psychology. It was organized for promotional purposes. The flashmob garnered significant attention and enthusiasm from the audience, setting the tone for the remainder of the event. Attendees were visibly engaged, and a crowd of more than 100 students gathered during the flashmob.

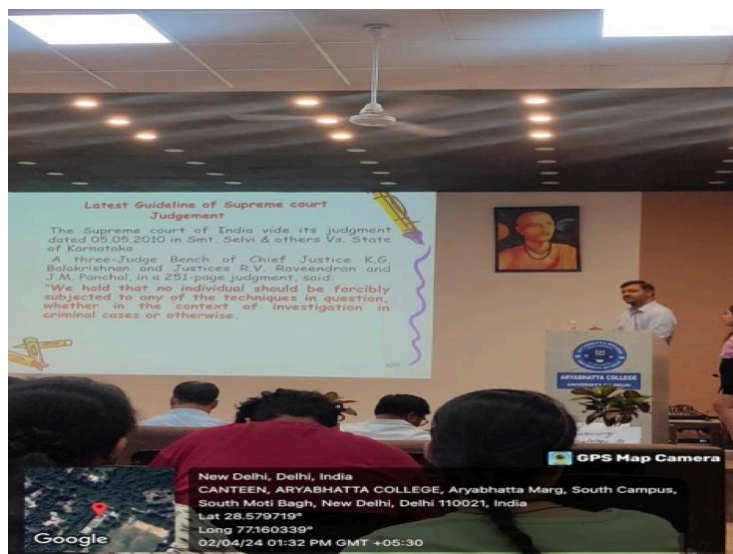

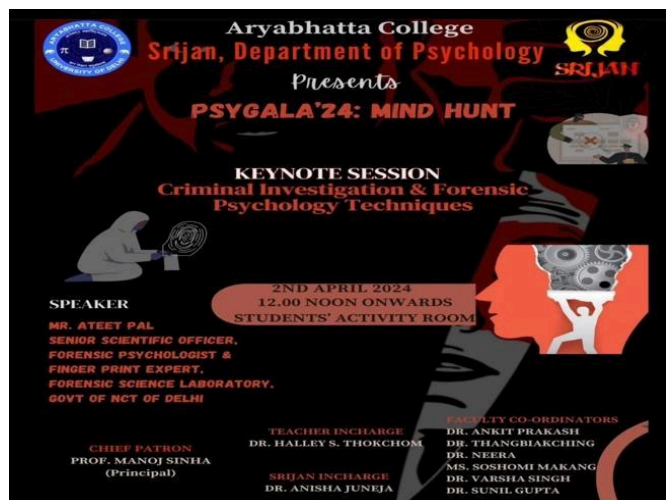

MIND PROBE : THE FORENSIC TRIVIA QUEST

The Forensic Trivia Quest was embarked by the presence of several faculty members and participants. The activity was to answer a live quiz taking place on mentimeter based on the topic of forensic psychology. The quiz took place in online mode and the students answered on their own devices. The live leaderboard was available on the projected screen for everyone to see. The aim of the activity was to increase awareness of the topic forensic psychology and act as a myth buster, destroying the stereotypes related to the field of forensic psychology. There were two winners of the quiz i.e. Aayushee (3rd yr) and Garv (1st yr) who are also students of the psychology department. The person on the first rank was given a gift hamper and the person on the second rank was also rewarded similarly. The activity was attended by 5 faculty members and 56 students.

SPEAKER SESSION : CRIMINAL INVESTIGATION AND FORENSIC PSYCHOLOGY TECHNIQUES

A session on "Criminal Investigation and Forensic Psychology Techniques" was facilitated by Mr. Ateet Pal (Senior Scientific Officer, Forensic Science Laboratory, Government of NCT of Delhi) as the speaker. The session was delivered in a bilingual format. Mr. Pal deduced the various scientific interrogation techniques such as; Polygraph Tests which takes into account the bodily responses to stress, Brain fingerprinting a recent breakthrough in crime investigation and Narco-Testing which involves inducing a trance-like state to extract information. Emphasis was placed on ethical practices in accordance with human rights and relevant laws. This event was attended by 7 faculty members and 36 students.

An informative session on Developing Field Preparedness: Building Skills and Knowledge was conducted with Ms. Eti Goel, a psychologist and internship supervisor at EmoAid Wellness Centre. Ms. Goel provided an in-depth overview of EmoAid's comprehensive range of services, which include internships, certifications, and specialized training in clinical and counseling psychology. She emphasized the organization's commitment to nurturing budding psychologists by offering hands-on experiences and professional development opportunities. Additionally, Ms. Goel highlighted key initiatives such as the EmoAid self-help program, designed to empower individuals with practical emotional coping techniques, and the Peer Support Group, aimed at creating a supportive community for young adults to navigate emotional challenges. The session, attended by 6 faculty members and 37 students.

DETECTIVE HUNT

A Detective Hunt was conducted, which featured different categories such as riddles, puzzles, and cryptic messages. Participants used critical thinking, problem-solving, and teamwork to decode clues and uncover the mystery by exploring campus with mirroring real-life criminal investigations. This approach enabled students to deepen their understanding of scientific and psychological techniques crucial for solving complex cases. The winning team of Sourabh Bansiwala and Shivangi Kashyap (B.Com Hons) secured 1st position and were rewarded with a cash prize for their exceptional performance in the Detective Hunt. There were 16 participants who were divided into 8 teams.

DAY 2 – PSYGALA (3rd April, 2024)

WORDS OF VERDICT : COURTROOM SIMULATION ACTIVITY

A Court room Simulation activity titled “Words of Verdict” was organized. A skit was held by talented students who showcased a real life case- The 1940s Mad Bomber Case. This case highlights the role and importance of Forensic Psychologists- offering lessons in criminal profiling and understanding criminal behavior. They kept the students engaged throughout by switching between different background settings and ended the event by playing a video clip. The video took a deep dive into the case and furthered understanding of the events that took place. Through realistic scenarios and engaging role-play, the simulation provided a valuable learning experience for all involved. The event was attended by 6 faculty members and 47 students.

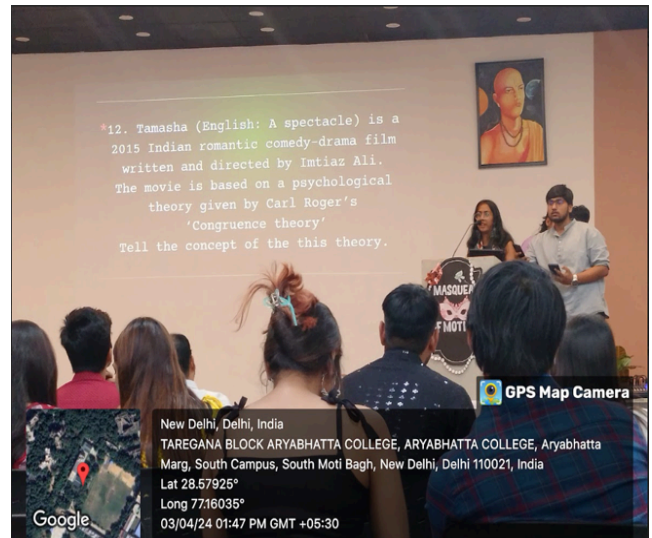

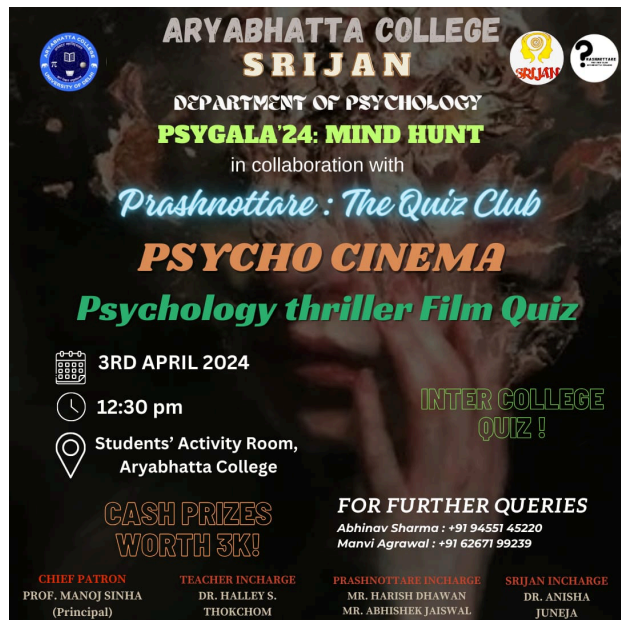

AMONG US : GAMING SESSION

An Among Us game was organized with three rounds and eight players each, including two imposters hidden among them. Tasks included memory games, location finding, cup tower building, and basketball aiming. Despite the imposters' attempts to eliminate crew members, the top two scorers and survivors prevailed in each round. Participants navigated the tense environment, observing and strategizing to reveal the imposters while completing tasks. Through teamwork and observation, crew members stopped the imposters' attempts, securing victory.

MASQUERADES OF MOTIVES: PSYCHOLOGY FILM QUIZ

The college quiz society Prashnottaree and Srijan teamed up for the 'Masquerades of Motives: Psychology Film Quiz' event on April 3, 2024, during PSYGALA'24. The event had a pen and paper quiz with 25 questions, each given 45 seconds to answer. Teams competed eagerly, trying to beat each other. Participants were excited, focused, and determined. They debated, planned, and celebrated as they answered tough questions. Dr. Anisha, Dr. Halley, Dr. Sushomi, and Dr. Ching, experts in psychology, were special guests. Shubham Maurya (Hindu) & Kavika Malhotra (IIAD) won first place with a big lead, followed by Nitin Anand Choubey & Harshita Badola (ABC) in second, and Siddhanth Nigam (MAC) & Shriya Bajpai (KNC) in third. In total, 61 students attended the event, including the participants.

BACKGROUND ACTIVITIES

There were some background events such as Psychologist's Dilemma which was an interactive game designed to challenge players' ethical decision-making skills in criminal related psychological scenarios, Say it aloud activity which involved a series of rounds where participants were presented with words, phrases, or tongue twisters regarding forensic psychology to pronounce correctly within a specified time limit and Describe a criminal activity was an engaging and interactive game designed to challenge participants' deductive reasoning and investigative skills. It involved presenting participants with a series of clues, evidence, and profiles related to fictional criminal cases. These activities helped to engage participants in fun and gain knowledge regarding the field of forensic psychology.
