Dr. Manoi Sinha

Principal

Picwic, the Film and Photography Society of Aryabhatta College was set up to expand and explore the creative and visual horizons of students who have an 'eye' for novelty and a perspective to see the extraordinary in the ordinariness of the everyday life. Not only do the members of the Society cover all the events in the College but also conduct their own events. Recently, it hosted its Annual Photography Festival coinciding with the College festival. The theme for the inaugural photo fest was SPECTRUM keeping in mind the celebration of diversity of thoughts, images and living patterns spread across the country and beyond that our young aspiring photographers forever attempt to capture on their camera lens.

Given its tentative beginnings, I am pleased to see it growing by leaps and bounds. Now with this Photobook they have set a new benchmark for it succeeding members. The grand achievement of Picwic in launching a Photobook is a colorful feather in the cap of the Aryabhatta College. It vivifies novelty of activities conducted by the Society and a mapping out of the futuristic plans incubated by the students and the teachers together. I am assured of the confidence placed in them and in their ability to shine forth- of which this magazine is a beautiful example.

I wish them best of luck in this impressive enterprise.

Binoy Bhushan Aggarwal

Convenor, Picwic

On behalf of the committee, I am delighted to announce that the inaugural issue of Picwic photobook titled - A Retrospective - a first of its kind is out. The Photobook is the brainchild of Daksh Gupta, the student coordinator for Picwic who has been working on it diligently. Over the last one year the team has successfully managed to conduct and cover a variety of events along with organizing photo walk and competitions - vignettes from which is being showcased here.

As a convener of Picwic, the Photography Society of Aryabhatta College, I am proud to be associated with a team of such enthusiastic and result driven ambitious people. I am sure you will enjoy the photographs that have been clicked by our budding and professional student-photographers.

Cultural President (DUSU 2016-17)

Picwic, Student Coordinator

As I reflect on the past one year, I am amazed to see the amount of rigorous work my team mates have put in in the events, exhibition, workshops and such that were hosted in the concluding academic year. I really appreciate their efforts in bringing it all together.

My sincere thanks goes to the Principal Sir and my teachers for providing motivation, guidance and endless cooperation. It is because of them that this Photobook, a dream in making, has been made possible. The creative work which this photobook contains is not only an individual's but a collective effort of the society as a team.

Once again, I wish to thank my teammates, the convener and the staff advisors for being supportive and helpful throughout, and making this happen.

SPECTRUM

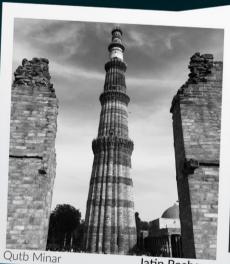

Picwic, the Photography Society of Aryabhatta College hosted its 1st Annual Photography Festival coinciding with the College festival on 29-30 March 2017.

As part of the festival, it hosted a variety of events, competitions and a large exhibition of photographs taken by student members of the college. The exhibition titled ABHIVIYAKT, a first of its kind garnered much appreciation from students and teachers alike from both within and outside college. In so far other activities are concerned the festival witnessed a huge turnout of student participants from various colleges across Delhi.
